About KEBA

At KEBA, we want to use our technologies to help people make their living and working environments easier - that is our mission. As an owner-managed company, we have been developing and producing future-oriented automation solutions for various areas for more than 55 years: from controls for machines and robots to ATMs and parcel machines to charging stations for electric cars.

Our headquarters are in beautiful Linz (Upper Austria), and we are also represented in 16 countries worldwide with more than 2,000 KEBA employees.

At KEBA, we work in an agile, self-organised and purpose-oriented manner. You won't find the classic management hierarchy with us - but you will find the KEBA DNA: We offer you space for your skills and a meaningful job at the side of passionate colleagues, with sustainable customer benefits in an innovative market.
